Water rate hike looking probable

Like or not a water rate increase is probably coming to Lee County.

The main topic of discussion at Monday night's Beattyville City Council meeting was the continuing deficit being suffered by Beattyville Water Works and how to fix it.

Several possible fixes, considered stopgap measures by the mayor and council members, were discussed.

That ultimately led to the inevitability of a water rate hike. The only question is how much.

The proposed budget shows projected income for water at $1,290,800. Expenses are expected to be $1,310,895. That is a projected deficit of $20,095.

Mayor John Smith told council members that Garbage and Sewer have been bailing out Water, and asked if that should continue.

He cited increased expenses as the main culprit for the water department's financial woes.

Electricity, he said, cost $125,000 this past year. That is $20,000 more than it cost in 2011.

Professional services had been budgeted at $25,000 for this fiscal year. The actual cost has been $52,000.

Equipment had $9,000 budgeted, but came in at $38,000.

Smith said that expenses could not be as high as this year, but that is doubtful since Kentucky Utilities has a rate increase before the Kentucky Public Service Commission.

Smith said that the city adjusts $34,000 for customers who have experienced water leaks. That could be saved if adjustments were not allowed, but he said. However, Smith said that some could not pay their bills, and would lose service.

Another way to cut costs, the mayor said, would be to not give employees their two percent pay raise, and to cut health insurance.

Neither he, nor the members of the council were in favor of any of those ideas.

Man charged with threatening youth

A Lee County man was arraigned in Lee District Court Tuesday for allegedly grabbing the baseball jersey of a high school player, and for allegedly cursing the boy and others.

Jason Shelton, 38 of KY 708, is charged with terroristic threatening in the third degree.

According to a court document, on May 8 Shelton, "Came into the dugout of the ball field and told the Affiant's (Jon Allen) son 'why do you have on that jersey.' The Defendant grabbed the Affiant's son by the shirt. The Affiant's son thought the Defendant was going to hit him. The Defendant was cursing at the Affiant's son and others's."

The incident has been reported to have occurred at Delver Field on Thursday, May 7, not May 8 as the warrant said.

A warrant was issued for Shelton by District Judge William D. "Bo" Leach on that date. Shelton turned himself in and posted bond.

He has been banned from all Lee County school activities, according to school officials.

Good-bye Seniors

Senior Night was Tuesday at Reece Field for members of the Lee County High School Softball Team. The seniors are shown here with Coach Paul Samples.

All but kindergarten to be at Southside this August

The Lee County School Board approved a plan Tuesday night that will have grades one through five at Beattyville Elementary moved into Southside Elementary (to be named Lee County Elementary) when school starts this August.

The plan, which was formulated by a group of educators in the Lee County system, will have all kindergarten students going to the Beattyville Elementary building until the Christmas break. They will then move to Lee County Elementary, which will have eight new classrooms at that time.

"This is the time to make the move," said Facilities Director Ray Shuler.

School personnel will have two months over the summer to move all desks and other furniture and equipment. The move in December will take place over a two-week span.

Maureen Patrick, Beattyville Elementary principal who will lead Lee County Elementary, said that Readifest would be held this year at Beattyville Elementary. She said she wants all teachers to be there to meet with parents and students.

Superintendent Dr. James Evans, Jr., said that after state testing, which began this week, is completed he wants all Beattyville Elementary students to be bused to Southside to see the building.

The move will not cost any teachers their jobs. That is because there are only 462 students in both Lee County elementary schools.

Patrick said she wants the Family Resource Center to have a presence in both schools until the kindergarten is moved to Lee County Elementary.

Shuler said that tables are going to be moved from the Beattyville cafeteria to the one at Southside. He said breakfast and lunch schedules should not be altered too much if any.

Vermont taking inmates is just a rumor - at this time

Several readers have told the Enterprise that they have heard that Vermont is going to take its inmates out of the Lee Adjustment Center (LAC) this year.

The Enterprise contacted Corrections Corporation of America (CCA), the parent company of LAC, and received this email in response, "CCA has not received notification from the Vermont Department of Corrections regarding our bid to continue housing Vermont offenders at Lee Adjustment Center. Out of deference to our government partner and its ongoing procurement process, I encourage you to contact the Vermont Department of Corrections with questions regarding the status of that process."

The email came from Jonathan Burns, director of public affairs for CCA.

The Enterprise called the Vermont Department of Corrections on Tuesday and asked for a status of their contract with LAC.

A woman who took the call said she would try to get someone to answer the inquiry, but the call was not returned by press time.

State election to be Tuesday

Lee Countians will join fellow Kentuckians next Tuesday to decide who they want as their next governor and lieutenant governor, attorney general, state treasurer and commissioner of agriculture.

The Republican Primary for governor has so far created the most stir. Matt Bevin, James Comer and Hal Heiner have all been trading accusations. Will T. Scott has allowed those three to have at it.

The candidates for lieutenant governor are Jenean Hampton (Bevin), Chris McDaniel (Comer), K. C. Crosbie (Heiner) and Rodney Coffey (Scott).

On the Democratic side, present Attorney General Jack Conway is running for governor with Sannie Overly as his running mate. Conway is opposed by Geoffrey M. Young, who has Johnathan D. Masters running with him.

Alison Lundergan Grimes hopes to continue as secretary of state. The other Democrat is Charles Lovett.

There are no Republicans seeking the position.

Only Republicans are wanting to be attorney general. There are two: Michael T. Hogan and Whitney H. Westerfield.

The Democrats who want to be state treasurer are: Rick Nelson, Neville Blake-more, Jim Glenn, Daniel B. Grossberg and Richard Henderson.

Republicans wanting that post are: Kenneth Churchill Imes, Jon Larson and Allison Ball.

Two Republicans, Richard Heath and Ryan F. Quarles, want to be commissioner of agriculture.

No Democrats are seeking the job.

Proctor voters who used to cast their ballots at Southside Elementary will instead go to 257 Industrial Park behind Jackson Energy.

The other voting locations remain as they have been.

State awards road contracts

The Kentucky Transportation Cabinet has awarded a $266,394 contract for the resurfacing of KY 52 East from Beattyville to Sharp Rock. The length of the project is 2.44 miles.

A $104,552 contract has been awarded to resurface a small (.35 miles) part of KY 11 North from the Lee County line to KY 715 in Wolfe County.

KY 28 from Booneville to the intersection of the Ricetown Road (KY 2024) is to be resurfaced at a cost of $442,161. That project is 3.09 miles in length.

Work on all of the projects must be completed by November 15.

Dear Editor

Dear Editor:

A hospital is more than a place where people go to heal, it is a part of the community that fosters help and represents hope. From providing treatment and comforting the sick to improving access to quality healthcare, hospitals are central to a healthy and optimistic community.

National Hospital Week is a time to celebrate the 200 people employed by Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital. We are extremely proud of each member of our team – at the hospital campus and our primary care clinics in Beattyville, Clay City, and Irvine. We recognize the important role they play in extending a sense of trust to our patients and our communities. These men and women support the health of the community through dedication and compassionate care.

We would like to take this year’s National Hospital Week as an opportunity to thank the dedicated individuals – providers, employees, board members, volunteers, and many more - for their contributions. We would also like to thank you for choosing Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital for your healthcare needs; because with your support, we can fulfill our mission of creating a stronger, healthier community.

Sincerely,
Susan Starling, Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital, President & CEO

‘Southside’ from Front

All members of the board except Janie Thorpe approved of the plan. She objected because she did not like the idea of the kindergarten students being left along.

Shuler said they would be in only one wing of the Beattyville building during the fall semester.

Also during Tuesday night’s regular monthly meeting of the board, Codell Construction’s Blanton Coates told the board that the new parking lot at Southside will be covered with gravel and available for use before end-of-the-year ceremonies this school year. Applying asphalt, he said, would wait until most of the work is done on the building.

He said quite a bit of work has been completed in preparation of starting on the building addition.

A small, $2,542, payout was approved for work completed since last month.

Family Resource Center Director Sherry Lanham told the board about a grant she procured called Born Learning.

The purpose, she said, is to get parents to understand that children are born to learn. It is designed for parents with children who are birth through five years of age. Through the program, the parents can better prepare their children for kindergarten.

Lee County was the only district in the state to receive two grants – one for each of the elementary schools.

Members of the high school tennis team were recognized, with one of them – Dylan Moore – going on to state competition.

Evans announced that a National Air & Space Academy would start to be offered this fall. It is to be on-line, and is a dual-credit course that spans four years. Students are going to be able to get their pilot’s licenses during high school. The cost is $4,500 a year to the schools.

A career track in engineering is also going to be started in the high school and one in energy in the lower grades.

He also told the board of an early graduation grant that would allow middle school students to apply for entrance. If successful, a student could graduate in three years in high school.

Evans also said that representatives from the Grates Foundation would be paying a visit next week to look at a computer class and discuss the TEALS program.

Dr. Ellen Usher and three of her colleagues reported on their findings of a three-years examination of Lee County students’ motivation and confidence.

One of the major findings was that fourth grade students are confident they can improve their math skills. That is not so much for students in the seventh grade and even less for those in grade 10.

All levels showed confidence in science.

Finance Director Zina Gibson reported that General Fund revenue stands at $5,527,237 and expenses are at $4,608,301.

She said she is hopeful to have a carryover of $539,000 into the next fiscal year.

The board awarded banking services to Peoples Exchange Bank with Citizens Bank & Trust being the secondary depository.

Instruction Supervisor Steve Carroll said that state testing began this week. It lasts two weeks.

Shuler reported that enrollment as of Monday was 1,001. It was 1,030 last year.

He said that attendance is down slightly from the same time last year. It dropped from 93.5 to 93.25 percent.

Because of bonding debt, the board is not going to be able to seek a loan for a new school bus at this time. Evans said it might be possible in the fall.

‘City’ from Front

That led to the discussion of a rate increase.

Council Member Sam Cockerham said that water had a deficit a number of years ago, and the city had to borrow. That ultimately led to a small increase required by Rural Development, the main funding source for capital projects.

Member Jon Allen said, “A business has to stay in the black. If we approve a five percent increase would we have to come back in a few years and raise it again? It’s a bitter pill to swallow.”

Cockerham said, “I’m looking at 10 percent.”

Member Mitch Cornelius said, “Expenses are going to continue to rise.” He then said that a 10 percent increase would add $1.50 a month to a minimum usage bill of 2,000 gallons.

Smith said the water department needs to generate a surplus so maintenance, such as that periodically needed for water tanks, can be performed.

Member Tyler Phillips asked how much of a surplus would be needed.

Smith said between $40,000 and $50,000.

Allen said that a 15 percent increase on 3,000 gallons a month would be $2.79.

Smith said that the garbage department would need a new compactor within a few years. Money for that would not be available if the department has to continue to support water.

The council agreed to meet in a special meeting Thursday, May 28, to discuss a possible increase as well as the rest of the projected 2015-2016 budget. The full budget must have two readings, and published in the newspaper before it can take effect July 1.

Also during Monday night’s regular monthly meeting the council approved the mayor’s appointment of Allen Begley, Sarah Judd and Jamie Stickler to the city’s long dormant ethics committee.

Approval was given to help in various ways with the Three Forks River Festival on June 6.

Smith was given authority to secure a $100,000 line of credit from Peoples Exchange Bank for Phase 3 of the Streetscape Project.

The mayor told the council that the Xerox Corporation had agreed to a financing package the city proposed to run a sewer line to that company’s building on KY 11 South. The funding proposal for that and a new pump station in West Beattyville has been sent to Rural Development.

A financing official, representing Beattyville Housing, spoke to the council of the need for the agency to procure a CDBG grant for infrastructure at a housing development. The city or the county must apply for such a grant.

Vonda Poynter said that 11 units are planned on Miles Road.

Member Phillips reported that he had attended a recent PEP board meeting and learned that the county had approached that agency about relocated from Main Street to Happy Top.

He said the belief was expressed at the meeting that the county might not refund the agency. It now gives PEP $700 a month, as does the city.

Member Allen said he had talked with City Police Chief Greg Brandenburg about possibly purchasing body cameras for officers. The cost would be $500 or less per camera.

He said it would be a benefit for both officers and the public.

The proposal could be included in the proposed budget.

Smith, going back to the water budget, said that the Kentucky League of Cities and the Kentucky Rural Water Association have a service that allows water providers to contact specific customers if their service is going to be interrupted or cut off. He said it would cost the city about $3,000 a year.

A different view By Betty Crabtree

I've mentioned in a previous article that I'm fascinated with words. It's interesting how over a period of time some words have taken on different meanings (or so they say). Some words thrown about so casually today by people have their root in vulgar terms of the past. Words can hurt or build up. The old saying, 'Sticks and stones can break my bones but words can never hurt me' is a BIG FAT LIE! Words can scar or they can heal. They can destroy one's life. The dictionary definition for language is, "The expression and communication of emotions or ideas between human beings by means of speech and hearing...I'll stop with the definition here and go on to my thoughts. I'm sure you've noticed how with a subtle or even obvious tone of voice (using words) a person's words can take on a different meaning. Words can create an environment in which there can be either positive or negative feelings, moods, ideas, etc. Did you know that the Bible was originally written using 11,280 Hebrew, Aramaic and Greek words, but the typical English translation uses only around 6,000 words? WOW! Obviously, nuances and shades of meaning can be missed in translating. So it is always helpful to compare translations, and I know there are those who don't believe you should o so. But... We're living in troublesome times and it's worldwide, but in the Bible we are exhorted over and over by God our Father to "Be not afraid." The Psalmist David (using words) said, "What time I am afraid I will trust in the Lord." The Apostle Paul told Timothy to not be afraid for, "God has not given you a spirit of fear but of power and of love and a sound mind." Why does God tell us to not be afraid? He wants to bring out the best in us! Fear cripples, binds, depresses, smothers creative thinking and speaking. One attribute of true Christian character is a willingness to encourage and lift people. Our words seasoned with grace should lift up, encourage, exhort others. In Ephesians 4:29 (the Amplified Bible) it says it this way, "Let no foul OR polluting language, NOR evil word NOR unwholesome OR worthless talk [ever] come out of your mouth, but only such [speech] as is good AND fitting to the need AND the occasion, that it may be a blessing AND give grace (God's favor) to those who hear it." The KJ version says, "Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers." (Thy Word, O Lord, have I hidden in y heart.) A good word gladdens the heart!

John Dunahoo

John Decoursey Dunahoo, husband of Ruby McIntosh Dunahoo and son of the late Ellen B. and James H. Dunahoo, was born in St. Helens, Kentucky on March 30, 1936 and departed this life at his home in Primrose, Kentucky on Friday May 8th, 2015 at the age of 79 years, 1 month, and 8 days. John is survived by the mother of his children, Johnny Ann Samples; two sons, Kenny (Tara) and Danny (Rhonda) Dunahoo both of Beattyville, Kentucky; two daughters, Ruby L. Dunahoo and Jessica Barrett (Byron) of Beattyville, Kentucky; two step children, Dewayne Deaton (Meegan), and Karen Booth (Steve) both of Beattyville, Kentucky; seven grandchildren, Melissa Ann Dunahoo of Irvine, Kentucky, Tonya Dunahoo Lambert, Eddie Dunahoo (Kayla), Chelsey L. Dunahoo (Shane) all of Beattyville, Kentucky, Connor Deaton, Hannah Barrett and Emily Barrett; one step grandson, Jamie Hogan; five great grandchildren, Kennedy Lambert, Mason Dunahoo, Kaison Wheeler, Duke, and DJ; one step great grandson, Hunter Hogan; one brother, Jessie L. Dunahoo of Lexington, Kentucky; and a host of nieces, nephews, and other relatives and friends. In addition to his parents, John is preceded in death one son, Edwin W. Dunahoo; three brothers, Christian Redamar Dunahoo, Charles E. Dunahoo, and Andrew Jackson Dunahoo; and four sisters, Agnes M. Dunahoo Cuneo, Ollie Virginia Dunahoo Foust, Nancy E. Dunahoo Harrison, and Ruby M. Dunahoo Dees. Funeral services were held Tuesday, May 12, 2015 at the Newnam Funeral Home Chapel with Rev. Ricky Isacs officiating. Burial is in the St. Helens Cemetery. 5th annual Kentucky 4-H homecoming

Kentucky 4-H Foundation

Kentucky 4-H Foundation is excited to announce the 5th Annual 4-H Homecoming! Homecoming is a great opportunity to reintroduce yourself to 4-H and reconnect with people and friends that you made as a 4-Her.

This year's Homecoming will be held on Saturday, June 6, 2015 at 6:00 p.m. at the newly renovated Campbell House, Lexington. Homecoming activities will include a reception, dinner, program, 4-H memorabilia, historic slide shows and lots of photos. The meal will be catered by the Kentucky Cattlemen's Association and the Campbell House. Tickets for the event are $50 per person and the deadline to purchase your Homecoming tickets is May 22nd.

Special things will be happening this year at Homecoming, an old favorite will be coming back to Homecoming, "Who's in the Crowd?". Join fellow 4-Hers to see who the speaker of this favorite event will be and what memories and adventures will turn up during this time of reminiscing. Beginning this year, the Foundation will recognize past state 4-H officers from 25 years ago, 1990, and 50 years ago, 1965.

Support and attendance of Kentucky's 4-H alumni and friends is essential to making Homecoming a success. Additional information and reservations can be made on the Foundation website at www.kentucky4hfoundation.org or call the Foundation at 859-257-7178. Make your reservations TODAY!

Vroom!

One lucky person will win this 2006 Chrysler Sebring convertible Saturday, June 6, at the Three Forks River Festival. Shown with the car are Beattyville Housing Director Wilma Kelley and a member of her staff, Margie Stamper. Kelley says that Stamper "worked hard" to get the car. The donor wants to remain anonymous.

A poem for my wife for our 43rd wedding anniversary on May 14...

For Marlene

You've come a long way from Little's Creek
To where you are today
In the eyes of that little mountain girl
Like a million miles away.
Too many seasons have come and gone
To allow you to return
But you have always carried with you
Those simple things you learned.
Professional and self-assured
Never thinking small
Moving with grace through O'Hare
Once ill at ease in a mall.
From a one room school in the hollow
To the largest university in the state
From watching the sun peep over the hills
To its setting on the Golden Gate.
You've come along way from Little's Creek
Yet not so very far
Guided by a heart pure and simple
Never forgetting who you are.
A poem written by L. Dail Haney

CATARACT SURGERY FOR ALZHEIMER'S PATIENTS

Families of Alzheimer's patients may dismiss cataract surgery as "wasted treatment" for those suffering from this most common form of dementia. However, a small study provides preliminary evidence that people suffering from Alzheimer's disease may indeed benefit from cataract surgery for the removal of a clouded eye lens and replacement with a lens implant. In fact, cataract treatment proved to not only improve visual acuity and quality of life, it also improved behavior and slowed memory declined among Alzheimer's patients with vision previously obscured by cataracts. Moreover, the caregivers of Alzheimer's patients reported feeling less burdened after those in their care underwent cataract surgery. Of course, each person's suitability for cataract surgery must be assessed on an individual basis.

While cataracts are one of the most common causes of vision loss, especially as we age, they are treatable with cataract surgery. Since most cataracts are part of the normal aging process, they cannot be reversed. Let us, at KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE, help you protect your eye health and your vision. We're located at 540 Jett Drive, where we feature state-of-the-art equipment and procedures. Please call 606-666-9393 and schedule your next comprehensive eye examination.

P.S. By the time we reach age 65, it is estimated that half the population will have a cataract, and all will likely have one by age 75.
